

To import your data into the new profile, follow the export instructions below, but choose the import option to import these settings in your new profile.

Gmail filters:

- Navigate to Gmail.com and select the gear icon in the top right. Select see all settings

- Select Filters and Blocked Addresses

- Select all of the filters you would like to export, scroll to the bottom of the filters list and select Export.

